Trading activity was slow on very light demand. According to Nass Crop and Progress reports, North Dakota has 97 percent vs 96 percent last year, Nebraska has 89 percent vs 95 percent last year, Colorado has 63 percent vs 92 percent last year, Michigan has 74 percent vs 70 percent last year, and Wyoming has 88 percent vs 100 percent planted versus last year. This is the week for getting in the last percent of the remainder of this year's crop for insurance purposes. The US dollar is affecting exports and according to Cattle Buyers Weekly, CANADA might start imposing retaliatory tariffs in relation to country of origin labeling on carefully-targeted U.S. goods by early September.
